

Here are Some Questions to Ask Before You Decide which plan is right for you!

Do you enjoy traveling, and the freedom to use your healthcare wherever you are?

Medicare Supplement could be for you!
No more worrying about high out-of-pocket costs if you need medical attention on vacation.

Do you prefer to stay close to home, and want your healthcare to be managed by a group of set healthcare providers?

Medicare Advantage could be for you!
These plans cover everything in Original Medicare, plus extras depending on the plan, but you must stay within your current health network.

Would you prefer paying one monthly amount to cover your doctor visits and hospital costs?

Medicare Supplement could be for you!
This plan covers deductibles, cosurance, and copayments, costs Original Medicare does not.

Medicare Advantage and Medicare Supplement:

Which is Right for You?

Medicare Advantage

Medicare Advantage Insurance is a type of Medicare health plan offered by a private company that contracts with Medicare to provide you with all your Part A and Part B benefits.

Medicare Supplement

Medicare Supplement Insurance, or Medigap, is sold by private companies, and can help pay some of the health care costs that Original Medicare doesn't cover. Examples of these costs include copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles.

What Does It Mean for You?
